Conflict Resolution

A few times over the past week conflicts have occurred on the playground. I encourage the students to try to work the problem out themselves, then talk to the adult on duty, and also to let me know. If the conflict is still burdening them at home and you feel there is more I should know don't hesitate to get in touch.

Volunteers Needed

The school could use a few more parents to help with recess duty. If this is an option for you, even very occasionally, please contact Shirley Horch.

Spelling - Week 2

Spelling words for all 30 weeks can be found on our class website if you would like to see them in advance. Our weekly spelling tests are on Fridays and the weekly lesson pages are due on Thursdays. You are free to use this link for SpellingCity to help your child study and practice: <https://www.spellingcity.com/users/bakkere>.

LA

Students are continuing to work through their handwriting practice booklet as it is an expectation for students in Grade 5 to write in cursive for most subjects. This booklet will be due at the end of the month.

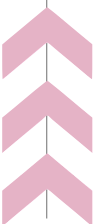

This week we will begin preparing for Literature Circles, our Grade 5 reading program. We will begin by looking at some short stories and poems, and learning how to make connections with the text by relating the story to our personal experiences, to other media we have encountered, and to current or past world events.

Math

We are starting off the school year by building our number sense and developing a deeper understanding and appreciation of Mathematics. Throughout the year we will have a weekly Fun Facts Check-in in order to increase fluency and understanding of math facts. This will typically take place on day 6 during computer class. This week's check-in will focus on the zero times table. Monday, Sept. 28 I will quiz the students individually on the one times table.

Unit Studies

We have been spending time in class reflecting on our strengths and learning how to be an effective community member in our classroom. Students have begun working in cooperative groups on practice Activity Cards in order to build teamwork skills.
