Conflict Resolution

Conflicts on the playground are bound to happen occasionally over the course of the school year. I encourage the students to try to work the problem out themselves, if they still need help, then talk to the adult on duty, and if necessary, let me know. If the conflict is still burdening them at home, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

I am so thankful for the parents who help us out supervising the long recess. Please encourage your child to give them the same respect they give their teachers.

Thank you!

It was so nice to meet many of you last night at Meet the Teacher! I appreciate you taking the time to come out.

Chromebooks

We have done a few things on the Chromebooks so far. They've learned a little bit about email and how to create a useful bookmark bar. Next week I'll ask them to sign into their gmail account at home. This is super important to learn and will make future work much easier.

Spelling

Spelling words for all 30 weeks can be found on our class website. Everyone did a fantastic job on the first spelling test.

LA

Students are continuing to work through their handwriting practice booklet as it is an expectation for students in Grade 5 to write in cursive for most subjects.

In the next couple weeks we'll be preparing for Literature Circles, our Grade 5 reading program. We are currently reading through the novel Holes, and learning how to make connections with the text by relating the story to our personal experiences, to other media we have encountered, and to current or past world events.

Math

We are starting off the school year with patterns and equations as well as lots of math games and multiplication fact practice. The class has done some individual work and some collaboration in groups. Algebra is part of this first unit.

Your works are wonderful, I know that full well. Psalm 139: 14b
